Urban Development Area Nordwestbahnhof

A lot has happened since the zoning plan draft was published in the autumn of 2023: The new zoning and development plan was passed by Vienna's City Council in March 2024. A quality handbook and other detailed concepts have been established. Now the first implementation period can be planned.

Vienna's Department for Urban Development and Zoning is organizing an information day on 22nd November 2024: Gather information on the quality handbook, the available concepts for mobility and ground floor zones, as well as the current planning status.

We look forward to your attendance!

This is what the Nordwestbahnhof area could look like when it is completed.
